Burlesque Shows

There was a time in America when Burlesque artists and Varietè artists shared the stage. At some point, the vaudeville theaters decided to make their shows “more respectable” and so began the great divide. Moisture Festival producers made their own decision, and thought it was time to bring Varietè and Burlesque back together on stage, knowing that Seattle audiences would love the combination and that the artists would appreciate the collaboration. The Burlesque scene in Seattle is ripe with immense creativity. These local performers relish the edge and fearlessly explore sexual humor and innuendo. Combine these local burlesque stars with national and international headliners in this genre, add Varietè artists whose material and humor not only cross the line but mock the idea that there is a line and you have Moisture Festival's Libertease Burlesque Shows!
